

(a) what real stands offer

the two variables covary, so the observations occupy one direction

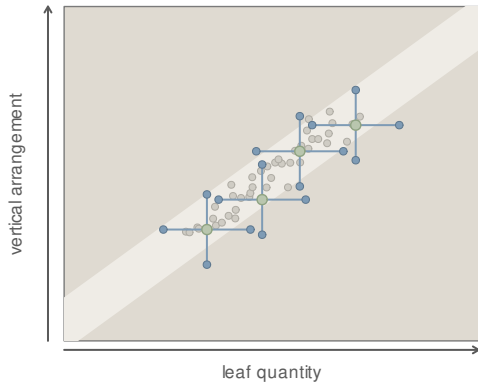

● a measured stand

● a simulated perturbation

(b) what the perturbation design generates one variable moved at a time, around each stand's own canopy

□ what the field offers

□ what it does not